3. Target market

Type of consumers that fall within this target market

The HESTA Personal Super product is designed for consumers who:

- are looking to save for their retirement, within the superannuation system
- at any life stage want a product that offers a choice of investment options with different potential risks and returns, allowing a member to choose an option that is likely to suit their age, employment situation and financial situation
- may wish to access insurance cover in the event of death or disablement
- are self-employed or not currently employed where legislated minimum employer contributions are not required to be paid on their behalf. (Employees of an employer who will pay superannuation contributions to HESTA must join the HESTA product and not this product.)

There is no minimum age, minimum contribution value or pre-existing superannuation balance for joining the product.

The product remains appropriate for members whilst transitioning to retirement, who may take career breaks or on ceasing a self-employment arrangement after joining the product.

Product description and key attributes

This product is designed for consumers who are self-employed or not employed to save for their retirement.

The key product attributes include:

- ability to select from ten investment options, allowing members to create their own portfolio to suit their specific investment needs
- ability to increase their retirement savings by making additional contributions on a before or after-tax basis
- access to a tax efficient way to save for retirement
- access to apply for Standard Insurance Cover (if eligible) as well as the option to apply for additional insurance cover to suit personal financial situations and needs.

Consistency between target market and the product

HESTA believes that the HESTA Personal Super product is likely to be consistent with the likely objectives, financial situation and needs of the members in the target market.

To ensure this, HESTA regularly review:

- our investment options to provide members with the opportunity for competitive, risk-adjusted net long-term returns (returns after fees and costs)
- member engagement across the suite of investment options offered to ensure the appropriateness and need for a broad range of investment options appropriate for differing levels of risk tolerance and investment horizons of members
- administration fees, including benchmarking against similar leading super funds
- insurance features, fees and costs to minimise the account erosion of our members, while providing appropriate insurance options for members
- the design of our product to ensure it is not complex and allows for a high degree of self-servicing.

4. How this product is to be distributed

Distribution channels

The HESTA Personal Super product has been designed to be distributed directly with members and also on an advised basis through the following means:

- through representatives of the fund trustee
- directly through online or physical application form.
- through third-party financial advisers and other regulated persons (holding an AFSL) who engage in retail product distribution.

Distribution conditions

The HESTA Personal Super product is distributed under the following circumstances:

- where a member is self-employed or not currently working in employment arrangement where legislated minimum employer contributions are required to be paid on their behalf; and
- where a member meets the relevant insurance eligibility criteria outlined in the PDS (if a member is applying for insurance cover); and
- where a person has, through the join process, answered the required questions relating to employment status and insurance eligibility.

The HESTA Personal Super product is not for distribution in jurisdictions outside of Australia.

Adequacy of distribution conditions and restrictions

The HESTA Personal Super product distribution conditions and restrictions attempts to ensure that only members who meet eligibility conditions enter this product:

- upon first making an investment selection, questions are presented to minimise the likelihood of distribution being inconsistent with the target market
- contact centre and member facing employees are trained on the product, including the product eligibility.

The trustee has determined that the distribution conditions and restrictions will make it likely that members who join the product are in the target market for which it has been designed.
