Consistency between target market and the product

HESTA believes that the HESTA TTR Income Stream is likely to be consistent with the likely objectives, financial situation and needs of the type of members in the target market. This is based on an analysis of the key terms and attributes of the product and a finding that these are consistent with the identified target market. This includes consideration of the varying levels of choice that members have in the product particularly with the investment features to cater to their personal situation and life stage.

To ensure this, HESTA regularly reviews:

- our investment options to provide members with the opportunity for competitive, risk-adjusted net long-term returns (returns after fees and costs)
- member engagement across the suite of investment options offered to ensure the appropriateness and need for a broad range of investment options appropriate for differing levels of risk tolerance and investment horizons of members
- administration fees and costs, including benchmarking against similar leading super funds
- the design of our product to ensure it is not complex and allows for a high degree of self-servicing.

Distribution channels

The HESTA TTR Income Stream has been designed to be distributed directly with members and also on an advised basis through the following means:

Adequacy of distribution conditions and restrictions

HESTA believes that the HESTA TTR Income Stream distribution conditions and restrictions ensure that only members who meet eligibility conditions enter into this product, because:

- in the join process, the applicant answers questions relevant to confirming their eligibility
- upon first making an investment selection, questions are presented to members upon investment switch to increase the likelihood of distribution being consistent with the potential risks and returns associated with each investment option
- contact centre and member facing employees are trained on the product, including the product eligibility.
