

why HESTA?

The specialist fund dedicated to health & community services

HESTA understands and is focused on meeting the needs of a predominantly female workforce. More than 80% of our members are women.

We're run by leaders in health and community services and have earned top ratings for our investment returns.

That's why more people working in aged care, hospitals, community and disability services, primary health and early childhood education choose HESTA for their super.

Focused on you

HESTA is run by, and dedicated to, people like you who work in health and community services. We're an industry super fund, run to benefit members, not to profit from them.

Good at our job

Since created in 1987, Core Pool (default investment option) has delivered well above its long-term target return of CPI + 4.0%.* We're proud to be one of only four funds (out of more than 120) to receive SuperRatings' platinum performance rating for 14 consecutive years.

Working for change

Over 80% of our members are women, and we know there are still big gaps to close. That's why we work for change, for good, for women in Australia.

Here to help

As a HESTA member, super information and advice is all part of the service, at your workplace or in one-on-one consultations.

*Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future performance.

Information for employers

If your employee gives you a completed I choose HESTA for my super form, don't send it to HESTA. You must keep a copy for your own records for five years.

HESTA will become a chosen fund for the employee two months after the employee gives this notice to you, or earlier at your discretion. However, contributions after the two month period must be made to HESTA as the employee's new chosen super fund. An eligible employee can choose a fund as often as they want, but you only have to accept one valid notice in a 12 month period.

There are a number of ways that you can make contributions into HESTA as an employer. Use the information on this form to complete a Contribution advice form for this employee if they choose to have their super paid into HESTA. Do not return this form to us.

If the employee has not supplied a member number on this form, we will automatically allocate one to them upon receiving your Contribution advice form.
